CATHOLIC SYNOD MAKES NEW RULES

Display Is to Be Allowed at Afternoon Marriages in the Discretion of the Pastor.

NO SUNDAY ENTERTAINMENTS.

Permission for Children to Attend Public Schools May Be Granted in Some Cases.

NEW RILES GOVERNING ST. LOUIS ARCHDIOCESE. .

Display allowed at afternoon mat-riages, at will of the pastor.

Radical changes in the rules governing the Archdiocese of St. Louis were promuigated at the Catholic Synod yesterday at Kenrick Seminary, Nineteenth street and

The statutes relating to marriages were materially altered. The matter of allowing display at afternoon weddings, in the form of music, a full-lighted alter and decorations, is left discretionary with the paster of the church in which the marriage is performed. He can permit display or refuse It as he sees ilt. Heretofore display was not allowed at afternoon marriages. Only two candles were burned on the altar. There was no singing, or other music, and decorations were not permitted. Marriages were not allowed to be performed after 5 p. m. The were not permitted. Marriages were not allowed to be performed after 5 p. m. The time is now extended to 6 p. m. The rule allowing a marriage to be performed in the parish in which a gar, living away from home, resides, or in the parish of her parents, was promulgated mostly for the benefit of domestics.

The church holds that unmarried persons are under the purisdiction of their parents, and it was regarded as expedient that young women should be married in their parents' parish, to guard against marriages being performed without the knowledge of parents.

It was found, however, that in some cases the rule worked a hardship; that the contracting couple were put to much trouble and expense, where the young woman lived considerable distance from her home.

The rule has always been, that a marriage performed in the parish in which the bridegroom lives is valid. The church holds, however, that propriety demands that the ceremony be performed in the parish of the bride.

Where there is no good reason for deviating from the spirit of the church in the matter, the officiating priest at a marriage outside the bride's parish, is held responsible. He will be sure to receive a reprimand from the Archbishop for the first offense. If he disregards his superior, he may be suspended or removed to another parish. Such a thing is not likely to eccur, but the Archbishop is vested with authority to act in the event that it should.

OVERLAPPING PARISH QUESTION. The rules in regard to overlapping parlahes were promulgated because of the fact that churches have been established in St. Louis for the benefit of Europeans who are not conversant with the English language. These include Germans, Bohemians, Poles and some others. The Germans predomi-In most cases the district allotted to the

In most cases the district allotted to these churches are established within the confines of the parishes of churches in which the English language is spok in excepting in the sciebration of mass.

The children of such allens, in many cases, on growing up, adopt American ideas and attend the English-speaking churches. In the past, when they came to marry, difficulty was encountered. In some instances

A MECHANIC'S PERIL

HE SAVED RIMSELF WHEN OTHERS WERE POWERLESS TO HELP.

E. J. Winn Had a Narrow Escape While Working at the Sedgwick Machine Works-The Account as He Gave It to a Reporter.

E. J. Winn, a machinist in the employ of the Sedgwick Machine Works, at Pough-keepsie, N. Y., had a narrow escape, but saved himself by his own efforts, rie told the story to a reporter as follows:

"I had been working here for eleven years, he said, "without even a week's time to apend in rest. It was all right till a year ago, when I began to lose flesh and to experience a severe pain in the right side. My appetite was fair, but I could eat only the plainest of food and not heartly of that. My weight was reduced to 115 pounds.

they desired to be married in the Englishspeaking church.

They are allowed under the new rule to be married in the English-speaking church within thirty days after notifying its pastor of their intention of becoming members of the parish. The pastor is required to notify the pastor of the parish they are leaving,
through the Chancellor of the discess.

If, however, they become members of the English-speaking parish before the time of marriage, there will be no delay in regard to the performance of the marriage.

In changing from one parish to another the new rule provides that a young man, on teaching the age of 21 years, or a young woman on becoming it years old, shall notify the pastor of the parish they intend to join. The rules provide in all cases that the parish to which they go must be within the parish district of their former parish.

SUNDAY AMUSEMENT RULE.

The rule probingting Sanday amusements
under the auspices of the church or caurch societies was promutgated for the general good of the church and its members.

It is not the spirit of the Catholic Church,
it is stated, to probabil legitimate amusements on Sunday in moderation, provided they do not interfere with attendance at church services. It was thought best, nowever, not to have amusements on Sanday conducted under the auspices of the church
or its societies.

The removal of the obligation on Cathothey desired to be married in the English-

or its societies.

The removal of the obligation on Catholics to receive the Easter communion in their parish church was done because it was found to be difficult in many cases to ascertal, whether the rule was compiled with. In large parishes it is impossible for priests to keep informed as to who receive communion. It was held to be a matter of conscience with individuals. The moral

CONSULTORS AND EXAMINERS.
The Archhishop's consultors and diocesan examiners were appointed.
The consultors are: Monsignor Muchislepen, the Reverend William Faerber, pustor of St. Mary's Church; the Reverend J. J. Harty, pastor of St. Leo's Church; the Reverend P. W. Tallon, pastor of the Church of the Holy Name of Jesus; the Reverend J. A. Hoffmann, pastor of St. Henry's, and the Reverend Doctor J. H. May, pastor of the Church of St. Thomas of Aquin.

The consulters have a vote in the appointment of a Bishop, and a voice in the establishment or changes in parishes. They are also consulted by the Archbishop on other matters.

The examiners are priests who conduct the examination of the junior priests, who are required to pass an examination once a year for five years after they have been ordained, to asceriain how they are keeping up in their studies.

Priests are required to study as much as possible all their lives. After passing five examinations they are supposed to be capable of continuing their researches without direction.

McGlynn, John Rothensteiner, the Very Reverend F. V. Nugent, C. M., the Very Reverend Robert McNamara, C. P., and the Reverend James Sullivan, S. J.

The Archbishop announced his decisions after all the priests had been given an opportunity of being heard from, either by voice in the synod or by vote in the selection of consulters, and suggestions as to exvoice in the synod of by vote in the selec-tion of consultors, and suggestions as to ex-aminers. He then gave his allocation, or address to the assembled clergy. The synod closed with the episcopal bless-ing given by the Archbishop. This is the second synod held in the St. Louis diocesse under the Archbishop's administration. The other took place in 1886.
